PREPARATION OF THE ANNUAL REPORT

This report is prepared in compliance with the Jeanne Cleary Disclosure of Campus Security and Crime Statistics Act. The report is prepared to inform current and prospective Houghton Lake and Cadillac Institute of Cosmetology employees, students, parents and visitors about campus security policies, measures to prevent and respond to crimes and emergencies, and the occurrence of crime on our campuses.

Campuses are not permitted to take retaliatory action against anyone with respect to the implementation of any provision of the Jeanne Cleary Disclosure of Campus Security Policy and Campus Crime Statistics Act or Violence Against Women Act.

Houghton Lake and Cadillac Institute of Cosmetology has no dorms on campus and does not recognize any off campus student organizations that would be covered under this act.

The report provides the statistics for the previous three years of reported crimes that occurred on the campus of Houghton Lake Institute of Cosmetology and the parking facilities as well as the Cadillac Institute of Cosmetology and the parking facilities.

The report is available each year by October 1 and notification is made to all current students and employees via email and/or a link to our website via SMS. Additional notifications about the Web address to find an electronic copy are distributed to prospective students and employees. Anyone may request a paper copy of the report by contacting the Houghton Lake Institute of Cosmetology Office at 989-422-4573 and the Cadillac Institute of Cosmetology Office at 231-775-3642.

The annual crime and fires statistics are collected from the College, the Roscommon County Sheriff's Department, the Michigan State Police - Houghton Lake, and the Cadillac Police Department..

SAFETY

EMERGENCY RESPONSE AND EVACUATION

Events that require a campus-wide emergency response will be identified by College Officials and other pertinent individuals.

The Emergency Response and Evacuation Plan (EREP) is used as a guideline for any type of emergency situation, including those that involve guests and members of the public who are on campus. The plan is provided to all students and employees upon registration and is posted on each bulletin board.

Timely notifications are critical when there is an immediate threat to the health and safety of those who are on campus. The College will warn students using, verbal warnings, and/or SMS, and/or email.

SECURITY AWARENESS AND CRIME PREVENTION

During orientation, new students are informed on how to maintain personal safety while on campus. Students are also told about crime on campus and presented with information regarding sexual awareness, alcohol awareness, and personal support services available in our area.

Students are provided with a locker in which to keep their personal items. Engraving tools are available to students for labeling personal property as a deterrent to theft. Students are encouraged to mark their textbooks and other valuable personal property so they may be identified if recovered after a theft.

Students are permitted to use any telephone available to them to call emergency dispatch.

BUILDING SECURITY AND SAFETY

Buildings are secured after normal hours. Malfunctioning locks are to be reported to College Officials immediately. Any problems with lighting or other safety measures are repaired as soon as possible. Anyone may call the Police to report any suspicious activity or emergency.

REPORTING CRIMES

Students and employees are encouraged to report criminal acts and suspicious activities immediately to the police. If you see a crime occur on campus you can report it by dialing 9-1-1 from any telephone.

There may be some crimes and other emergencies that individuals wish to report to College Officials. These College Officials are designated by the Clery Act and called Campus Security Authorities (CSA). These individuals are defined as having significant responsibility for student and campus activities.

Reporting crimes is on a voluntary, confidential basis. Victims will be assisted upon request. All crimes, whether reported to the CSA or the local law enforcement must be documented in the campus Crime Log. Preserving evidence for proof of a criminal offense is very important.

CRIME ALERTS AND TIMELY WARNINGS

Upon confirmation of a significant emergency or dangerous situation involving a crime (occurring either on or off campus that, in the judgment of the College Official, constitutes an ongoing or continuing threat to the health and safety of students or staff, the College Official will issue an immediate notice to students and employees. A timely warning will be distributed via any or all of the following ways: SMS, email, telephone, College Facebook page, College website, 9&10 News, and Fox 32 News.

CRIME REPORTS AND RECORDS

The Houghton Lake and Cadillac Institute of Cosmetology recognizes its responsibility to publish crime statistics for the most recent three-year period, and to make these statistics available. Students and employees may file complaints regarding the compliance with this Act, in writing, to the College President.

Reports of crime on College property are investigated by the Roscommon County Sheriff's Department, the Michigan State Police - Houghton Lake, or the Cadillac City Police. The campus maintains a Crime Log that includes the following information:

- Date of entry
- Incident report date
- Date/time of the crime
- Nature/type of the crime/complaint
- General location of crime

SEXUAL ASSAULT, DOMESTIC VIOLENCE, AND DATING VIOLENCE

Victims of sexual assault, domestic violence, and dating violence are encouraged to report the offense to the police. Victims are also encouraged to seek medical attention at once, since most injuries are not readily apparent. In instances where the victim and the assailant are acquaintances, the victim may not realize the incident meets the legal definition of a crime.

DEFINING SEXUAL ASSAULT/RAPE, DOMESTIC VIOLENCE, DATING VIOLENCE, AND STALKING

Sexual Assault: Sexual assault occurs when a person engages in sexual intercourse or deviate sexual intercourse with a complainant without the victim's consent.

Rape: The penetration, however slight, of the vagina or anus with any body part or object, or oral penetration by a sex organ of another person, without the consent of the victim. Rape also occurs when a person engages in sexual intercourse with a person by forcible compulsion or the threat of forcible compulsion that would prevent resistance by the person, or when a person is unconscious, or where the person knows that the victim is unaware the act is occurring.

Domestic Violence: Includes felony or misdemeanor crimes of violence committed by a current or former spouse or intimate partner of the victim, by a person with whom the victim shares a child in common, by a person cohabitating or has cohabitated with the victim as a spouse or intimate partner, by a person similarly situated to a spouse of the victim under the domestic or family violence laws of the jurisdiction, or by any other person against an adult or youth victim who is protected from that person's acts under the domestic or family violence laws of the jurisdiction.

Dating Violence: Violence committed by a person who is or has been in a social relationship of a romantic or intimate nature with the victim and where the existence of such a relationship will be determined based on the following factors:

- The length of the relationship
- The type of relationship
- The frequency of interaction between the persons involved in the relationship

Dating violence includes threats of, or use of, physical, sexual, verbal, emotional, economic, or psychological action to influence or control the victim.

Stalking: Engaging in a course of conduct directed at a specific person that would cause a reasonable person to fear for his or her safety or the safety of others or suffer substantial emotional stress.

WHAT TO DO IF YOU HAVE BEEN A VICTIM OF SEXUAL ASSAULT, DOMESTIC OR DATING VIOLENCE, OR STALKING

First Steps and Immediate Assistance

If you or a friend experienced sexual assault recently, the situation should be considered an emergency, and there are some basic steps you should encourage the victim to take or the victim should take.

1. Go to a safe place. Preserve all physical evidence of the assault, even if you are unsure whether you want to report the crime.

Do not shower, bathe, douche, eat, drink, smoke, wash your hands, or brush your teeth until after you have had a medical examination. Remember to take a change of clothes to the hospital, as they will collect the ones you're wearing as evidence. If you do change, save all clothing that you were wearing at the time of the assault and bring them and any other potential evidence to the medical exam. Place each item of clothing in a separate paper bag. Do not use plastic bags. Do not clean, straighten up, disturb, or remove anything from the area where the assault occurred.

A forensic examination is one way to preserve evidence, but it is not the only way. You can easily take some important steps to preserve evidence by saving all text messages, emails, social media postings (taking screenshots can be helpful), or anything else that might relate to the assault or that might be helpful later in reconstructing a timeline of events. Write down the names of people who might have seen you immediately before or after, as it's easy to forget names or locations. Even if you do not want to participate in the investigative process now, you might later change your mind, so it's helpful to preserve as much information as possible.

2. Get medical care as soon as possible.

It is vital that sexual assault victims seek emergency medical care at a local hospital as soon as possible. A person who has been sexually assaulted may not realize that s/he has sustained serious injuries (including closed head injury). In addition, hospital staff are trained to collect, preserve, and document physical evidence of the assault. Physical evidence is best collected as soon as possible; however, some evidence may still be collected after 72 hours. Emergency department staff can also provide counseling and treatment related to sexually transmitted infections (including HIV) and pregnancy which may have resulted from the sexual assault.

3. Refer survivors to personal support services.

There are many options available to survivors who are dedicated to providing individualized care for victims of sexual assault, domestic violence, and other violent crimes. Many of the support service providers offer a 24-hour hotline for survivors of sexual assault, and one-on-one counseling services free of charge for victims, former victims, families, and friends. Advocates provide information and support throughout the process of coping with sexual assault, and are trained to assist survivors at local hospitals, police departments, and courts.

4. Help survivors understand their options.

Sexual assault is an experience that can leave survivors feeling powerless; do what you can to help them feel back in control of their own lives. Help survivors reach out to personal support services and make sure that they have all the information they need to make informed choices; then support their decisions. Reporting an incident to the local authorities does not mean that you must press charges. Survivors have a choice whether or not to file a formal complaint through the College's investigation process.

5. Encourage survivors to seek ongoing support.

Recognize that healing from a sexual assault takes time. Talking about the sexual assault or its effects will help the survivor through the recovery and healing process. Supportive family, friends, and personal support advocates, can make a real difference for survivors of sexual assault. On the other hand, unsupportive or victim-blaming comments from family or friends can do tremendous harm to the sexual assault survivor.

PREVENTION

Risk Reduction Tips

Risk reduction tips can often take a victim-blaming tone, even unintentionally. With no intention to victim-blame, and with recognition that only those who commit sexual violence are responsible for those actions, these suggestions may nevertheless help you to reduce your risk experiencing a non-consensual sexual act:

1. If you have limits, make them known as early as possible.
2. Tell a sexual aggressor "NO" clearly and firmly.
3. Try to remove yourself from the physical presence of a sexual aggressor.
4. Find someone nearby and ask for help.
5. Take affirmative responsibility for your alcohol intake/drug use and acknowledge that alcohol/drugs lower your sexual inhibitions and may make you vulnerable to someone who views a drunk or high person as a sexual opportunity.
6. Take care of your friends and ask that they take care of you. A real friend will challenge you if you are about to make a mistake. Respect them when they do.

If you find yourself in the position of being the initiator of sexual behavior, you owe sexual respect to your potential partner. These suggestions may help you to reduce your risk for being accused of sexual misconduct:

1. Clearly communicate your intentions to your sexual partner and give them a chance to clearly relate their intentions to you.
2. Understand and respect personal boundaries.
3. DON'T MAKE ASSUMPTIONS about consent; about someone's sexual availability; about whether they are attracted to you; about how far you can go; or about whether they are physically and/or mentally able to consent. If there are any questions or ambiguities then you DO NOT have consent.

4. Mixed messages from your partner are a clear indication that you should stop, defuse any sexual tension, and communicate better. You may be misreading them. They may not have figured out how far they want to go with you yet. You must respect the timeline for sexual behaviors with which they are comfortable.
5. Don't take advantage of someone's drunkenness or drugged state, even if they did it to themselves.
6. Realize that your potential partner could be intimidated by you, or fearful. You may have a power advantage simply because of your gender or size. Don't abuse that power.
7. Understand that consent to some form of sexual behavior does not automatically imply consent to any other forms of sexual behavior.
8. Silence and passivity cannot be interpreted as an indication of consent. Read your potential partner carefully, paying attention to verbal and non-verbal communication and body language.

Signs of an Abusive Relationship

- Exerting strict control (financial, social, and/or appearance)
- Needing constant contact including excessive texts and calls
- Insulting a partner in front of other people
- Extreme jealousy
- Showing fear around a partner
- Isolation from family and friends
- Frequent canceling of plans at the last minute
- Unexplained injuries or explanations that don't quite add up

Be an Active Bystander

Challenge your friends when they say or do something abusive and tell them what you think.

- "I'm surprised to see you act that way. You're better than that."
- "I care about you, but I won't tolerate you being abusive."
- "This makes me really uncomfortable. What you're doing is not right."
- "Loving someone doesn't mean abusing them."
- "Good partners don't say or do those kinds of things."

REPORTING OPTIONS

Reporting to the Police (911) can begin a criminal investigation. However, making a report doesn't mean that you must press charges. If legal action is requested, persons accused of rape and other forcible and non-forcible sex offenses may be arrested, and charges will be filed.

Reporting to the Title IX Coordinator will begin an investigation into whether the accused student or employee violated the College harassment/discrimination policy. They investigate complaints of student-on-student sexual assault, as well as other forms of sexual misconduct involving other students, staff, or faculty.

THE COLLEGE'S REPORTING RESPONSIBILITIES

There are three federal laws that establish responsibilities for employees of colleges to report certain types of crimes and incidents, especially sexual misconduct: the Clery Act, Title VII, and Title IX.

Additionally, state law creates a reporting duty regarding the abuse of minors. Each of these areas of federal law has a different purpose, but generally the laws are intended to protect members of the campus community, visitors, and guests from criminal and discriminatory behavior. The responsibilities established by these laws gives rise to the term “mandatory reporter.”

Title IX imposes on certain “mandatory reporters” a duty to report incidents of sexual assault about which they become aware, and whose awareness of an incident in turn puts the College “on notice” and triggers its obligation to respond.

“Mandatory reporters” includes any employee with the authority to take action to redress sexual violence, who has been given the responsibility to report incidents of sexual violence or any other misconduct to the Title IX coordinator or other appropriate school officials, or whom a student reasonably believes has this authority or duty.

Certain campus officials, “Campus Security Authorities or CSAs,” have a duty to report sexual assault, domestic violence, dating violence, and stalking for federal statistical reporting purposes.

Reporting to a CSA will result in anonymous data collection that will be included in the publication of the Annual Security Report, if the incident meets the geographic and other criteria established by the government under the federal Clery Act. All personally identifiable information is kept confidential. This reporting protects the identity of the victim and may be done anonymously.

Responsibilities/What They Must Do

When reporting misconduct covered under Title IX (e.g., sexual harassment, sex or gender discrimination, sexual assault, dating violence, domestic violence, stalking, sexual orientation discrimination, gender identity discrimination, etc.), College employees must provide full details of the incident if known, including names and personally identifying information. If a victim wishes for no action to be taken, the Title IX Coordinator must evaluate that request. The College is always guided by the goal of empowering the victim and allowing the victim to retain as much control over the process as possible. Typically, the College is compelled to act despite a victim’s wishes when an incident evidences use of weapons, violence, threat, pattern, or predation. Otherwise, a request for confidentiality or no action may be honored, with remedies offered to the victim as appropriate.

Employees should not promise confidentiality unless their professional role is confidential, and they have received the report in that confidential capacity. If approached, it is appropriate to counsel, “I may be obligated to share what you tell me with administrative officials. If you would like, I can connect you with resources who can maintain the confidentiality or privacy of what you share with them.” Where an incident involves off-campus conduct involving a member or members of the campus community, the reporting expectations still apply.

About Confidentiality

The College must balance the complainant's desire to maintain his or her confidentiality against the responsibility under Title IX to investigate all complaints of sexual violence, as well as their Clery Act reporting obligations. There is a strong preference for honoring a complainant's request for confidentiality but reinforces the College's obligation to investigate the complaint nonetheless. The College must make a judgment call as to whether honoring the request for confidentiality puts the College community or the complainant at risk, but the fact remains that honoring the complainant's request will, in most cases, result in a less-than-thorough investigation of that particular complaint, and the complainant must be so advised.

Privacy concerns are often at the forefront when someone has experienced sexual misconduct. It is useful to know the degree of confidentiality that individuals can expect from each of the College resources. College officials are trained in the importance of confidentiality and the protocols for maintaining that confidentiality.

Third-Party Reporting and Reporting Anonymously

Key Definitions: "Complainant" means the victim and/or the person making the allegation(s) of sexual misconduct. "Respondent/Accused" means the person alleged to have committed sexual misconduct.

In cases where sexual misconduct is reported to the College by someone other than the victim, the Title IX Coordinator will promptly notify the complainant that a report has been received. The policy and the Procedures will apply in the same manner as if the complainant had made the initial report. Reports from an anonymous source will be treated in a similar fashion.

REMEDIES

Interim Remedies Available During Investigation

The College reserves sole discretion and the right to take whatever measures it deems necessary in response to an allegation of sexual misconduct in order to protect students' rights and personal safety and the College community. During the preliminary investigation and procedural process, and prior to a determination of whether the alleged violation has occurred, the Title IX Coordinator or other authorized administrators may provide interim remedies including, but not limited to, one or more of the following:

- Facilitating access for Complainant to counseling and/or medical services
- Implementing contact limitations on the Accused or on all parties
- Facilitating Complainant to victim advocacy and support services
- Adjusting the courses, assignments, schedules of the Complainant and/or the Accused
- Informing the Complainant of the right to notify law enforcement authorities of the alleged incident and offering to help facilitate such a report
- Suspending, on an interim basis, the Accused from classes, the College campus/facilities/events, and/or all other College activities or privileges for which having the Accused on campus would seriously disrupt the College or constitute a danger to the health, safety, or welfare of members of the College community.

The appropriate procedure to determine the status of the student will be initiated within seven business days:

- In all cases in which an interim suspension is imposed, the Accused will be given the opportunity to meet with a College Official prior to such suspension being imposed, or as soon thereafter as reasonably possible, to show cause why the suspension should not be implemented.
- At the discretion of the appropriate College Official, alternative coursework options may be pursued to ensure as minimal an impact as possible on the Accused.
- The appropriate College official has sole discretion to implement or stay an interim suspension and to determine its conditions and duration.
- Violation of an interim suspension under this policy will be grounds for expulsion.

Remedies Available at Conclusion of Investigation

Once the investigation is concluded, the Title IX Coordinator or other authorized administrators may immediately provide the Complainant with appropriate remedies including, but not limited to, one or more of the following:

- Removing the person found responsible from classes which include the Complainant or otherwise assuring that the Complainant and the person found responsible are not required to share the same classes
- Arranging for the Complainant to have extra time to complete or retake a class or withdraw from a class without an academic or financial penalty.

PROCEDURES

Initial Review

When a report is made to the Title IX Coordinator, they will meet with the victim. If the (reporting party) does not wish for their name to be shared, does not wish for an investigation to take place, or does not want a formal resolution to be pursued, the reporting party may make such a request to the Title IX Coordinator, who will evaluate that request in light of the duty to ensure the safety of the campus and comply with federal law.

In cases indicating pattern, predation, threat, weapons, and/or violence, the College will likely be unable to honor a request for confidentiality. In cases where the victim requests confidentiality and the circumstances allow the College to honor that request, the College will offer interim supports and remedies to the victim and the community, but will not otherwise pursue a formal action. A reporting party has the right, and can expect, to have reports taken seriously by the College when formally reported, and to have those incidents investigated and properly resolved through these procedures.

Formal reporting still affords privacy to the reporter, and only a small group of officials who need to know will be told. Information will be shared as necessary with investigators, witnesses, and the responding party. The circle of people with this knowledge will be kept as tight as possible to preserve a reporting party's rights and privacy.

Investigation

In cases involving student grievances referred by administrative action, the College will use an investigative model. This model allows much of the investigation to be completed prior to the final hearing. Appropriate College Officials will interview accused and accusing students, and allow for one or more responses from each. The College Officials will prepare a summary report with a finding of whether the College's harassment/discrimination policy was violated.

Hearing Procedure

If the survivor/victim would like to proceed with an internal Student Conduct hearing through the College's Student Code of Conduct, the College Officials can serve as witnesses and their investigation report can be read into the hearing. Accused and accusing students may make opening and closing statements primarily to address issues raised in the report.

Standard of Evidence

The College considers the greater weight of the credible information as its standard in student conduct cases. Often referred to as the "preponderance of the evidence," this standard asks decision-makers to consider whether it is more likely than not that a violation occurred.

Past History

The past sexual history or sexual character of a party will not be considered in hearings unless such information is determined to be highly relevant by the hearing officer. All such information sought to be admitted by a party or the College will be presumed irrelevant until a determination of relevance is made by the hearing officer and in consultation with the conduct board.

Demonstration of pattern, repeated, and/or predatory behavior by the responding student, including in the form of previous findings in any legal or campus proceeding, may be relevant to the finding, not just the sanction.

Sanction Statement

Not all forms of sexual misconduct are equally serious offenses, and the College reserves the right to impose different sanctions, ranging from verbal warning to expulsion, depending on the severity of the offense.

The College will consider the concerns and rights of both the accusing party and the person accused of sexual misconduct.

- Any student found responsible for violating the policy on Non-Consensual or Forced Sexual Contact (where no intercourse has occurred) will likely receive a sanction ranging from verbal warning to expulsion, depending on the severity of the incident, and taking into account any previous campus conduct code violations.
- Any student found responsible for violating the policy on Non-Consensual or Forced Sexual Intercourse will receive a sanction of expulsion.
- Any student found responsible for violating the policy on Sexual Exploitation or Sexual Harassment (and related violations) will likely receive a sanction ranging from written warning to expulsion, depending on the severity of the incident, and taking into account any previous campus conduct code violations.
- Any student found responsible for violating policies on Dating Violence, Domestic Violence, or Stalking will likely receive a sanction from suspension to expulsion.

Final Outcome

Accused and accusing students may see the decision letters.

Appeals

All parties in a sexual misconduct hearing have the opportunity to appeal within a specific time limit. Students found responsible may appeal without concern that they will receive a harsher finding or sanction. Reporting parties may appeal the decision and the sanction.

Retaliation

The College will not tolerate retaliation in any form against faculty, staff, or a student who files an allegation, serves as a witness, or participates in an investigation of discrimination or harassment. College policy and state and federal law prohibit retaliation against an individual for reporting discrimination, sexual violence, or harassment, or for participating in an investigation. Retaliation is a serious violation that can subject the offender to sanctions independent of the merits of the allegation. Allegations of or questions about retaliation should be directed to the Title IX Coordinator.

SEX OFFENDER REGISTRATION AND RELATED INFORMATION

The “Campus Sex Crimes Prevention Act” of 2000 provides for the tracking of convicted sex offenders enrolled at, or employed by, institutions of higher education. The act requires sex offenders, already required to register in a state, to provide notice of each institution of higher education in that state at which he/ she is employed, carries on a vocation, or is a student. This registration is to be made available to law enforcement agencies with jurisdiction where the institutions of higher education are located. Institutions of higher education are required to issue a statement advising the campus community where state law enforcement agency information concerning registered sex offenders may be obtained.

The Act amends The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974 (FERPA) to clarify that FERPA does not prohibit an educational institution from disclosing information provided to the institution concerning registered sex offenders. Persons seeking to obtain sex offender registration information may contact:

- Roscommon County Sheriff's Department at 989-275-5101
- Michigan State Police - Houghton Lake at 989-5103
- Cadillac City Police at 231-775-3491
- Michigan State Police Sex Offender Registry at http://www.communitynotification.com/cap_main.php?office=55242/

Unlawful use of the information for purposes of intimidating or harassing another is prohibited and a willful violation may be punishable by a civil or criminal penalties.

Drugs & Alcohol

Laws regarding the possession, sale, consumption, or furnishing of alcohol are controlled by the Michigan Liquor Control Commission (MLCC). The possession, sale, manufacture, or distribution of any controlled substance is illegal under both state and federal laws. Possession, transportation, consumption, or sale of alcoholic beverages or any other controlled substance on campus is prohibited. Two Federal laws, the Drug-Free Workplace Act of 1988 and the Drug-Free Schools and Communities Act Amendments of 1989, mandate that the College notify all students and employees of its policies, and of the sanctions which will be applied for violations of these policies, relating to the possession, use, and/or distribution of illicit (illegal) drugs and alcohol. This information has been developed to meet our obligations to students and employees. Our commitment to you is to take responsible action to prevent possession, use, and/or distribution of illicit drugs and alcohol and, when practicable, to help you to deal successfully with drug and/or alcohol problems if you have or develop such a problem. Should these efforts to prevent or remediate a problem fail, punitive actions may be initiated.

All students and employees should refer to the "Drug & Alcohol Prevention Information" that is written here, posted on the college website, and provided to them during orientation. This information outlines the college policies and individual responsibilities required under the act. Students are also provided upon enrollment a clear written notice with information on the penalties associated with drug-related offenses.

STANDARDS OF CONDUCT FOR A DRUG FREE CAMPUS

Students: College policies and procedures clearly prohibit the unlawful possession, use, and/or distribution of illicit drugs and consumption of alcoholic beverages on the College campus.

Employees: The unlawful manufacture, distribution, dispensing, possession, or use of illicit drugs and/or alcohol is prohibited on College premises. In the event of a violation, corrective disciplinary actions shall be taken pursuant to College policies, as applicable. A description of drug and/or alcohol counseling, treatment, rehabilitation, and/or re-entry programs is provided in this report.

Special Stipulations Applicable To Federal Grants

As a condition of employment under a federal grant, the employee will:

- abide by the established standards of conduct and sanctions;
- notify the employer of any criminal drug statute conviction for a violation occurring in the workplace not later than five days after such conviction.

Notice to Students and Employees

The College will make every reasonable effort to assist you in meeting institutional standards of conduct and policies in relation to the unlawful possession, use, or distribution of illicit drugs and alcohol. However, the College is prepared to impose disciplinary sanctions for violations of these standards and policies consistent with local, state, and federal law, up to and including expulsion or termination of employment and referral for prosecution.

ALCOHOL EFFECTS

Alcohol consumption causes a number of marked changes in behavior. Even a small amount significantly impairs the judgment and coordination required to operate machinery or drive a car safely, increasing the likelihood that the driver/operator will be involved in an accident. Low to moderate consumption of alcohol also increases the incidence of a variety of aggressive acts, including physical abuse. Moderate to high consumption of alcohol causes marked impairments in higher mental functions, severely altering a person's ability to learn and remember information. Very high consumption causes respiratory distress and death. If combined with other depressants of the central nervous system, much less consumption of alcohol will produce the effects just described.

Repeated use of alcohol can lead to dependence. Sudden cessation of alcohol intake is likely to produce withdrawal symptoms, including severe anxiety, tremors, hallucinations, and convulsions. Alcohol withdrawal can be life-threatening. Long term consumption of large quantities of alcohol, particularly when combined with poor nutrition, can also lead to permanent damage to vital organs such as the brain and the liver. Mothers who drink alcohol during pregnancy may give birth to infants with fetal alcohol syndrome.
